It is Rumored, But Not Verified, That a Number of Lives Were Lost.

The Streets Blocked With Huge Trees. Telegraph Poles, Logs, Stumps, Etc.-Stock in Business Houses Ruined-Fears For Miners Under Ground.

MAHONEY CITY, Pa., June 20.-At about 10 o'clock Friday night the whistles around town started the alarm used in case of fire. In a short time the streets were filled with people rushing wildly to find the cause. They were attracted up Main street, and before proceeding far a carriage dashed toward them. The occupant was driving for his life and crying: "The dam is broken! Fly for your lives!"

The crowd turned and fled, and in the distance could be heard the rushing of the mighty torrent.
"Fly to the hill! Fly for your lives!"

was repeated from mouth to mouth. By the time the water reached Main and Center streets the crowd had fled to the hills. The people living in the northern end of the town had not time to reach the mountains after the alarm was given and sought shelter in their

In a few minutes the debris had blocked the streets. There were huge trees, telegraph poles, logs, stumps of trees, wagons, carts, parts of houses, brought by the roaring current. Cellars and stores were flooded and the streets were made impassable.

After reaching this place the water took a westerly course and the eastern end of the town was not damaged. Traffic on the Lehigh railway between here and Park Place is blocked, the tracks being washed out, and huge logs and trees are lying across the tracks, piled ten and fifteen feet high.

The telegraph wires on the Lehigh Valley road are down, and it is reported that a number of houses in Robinson's, a small mining village about two miles from here, and right in the path of the flood, have been carried away.

After the flood had subsided, the greatest fear among the people was for the miners working underground, but information at this writing gives no lives lost.

It is impossible to reach the broken dam, as on all the way through which the raging torrent spent its course the water is knee deep.

Rumors are flying in all directions as to the number of lives lost. Two people are reported missing, and how nany more can not be estimated now. The lower business portion of the lown was flooded, and nearly all had portions of their stock ruined.

Others say a cloud-burst had hung over the dam all evening, and the heavy body of water could not stand the strain in the breast-works, which gave away with mighty force.

Couriers arriving in town report a rreat deal of damage done, and some of the mines are flooded, which means 10 work at the mines until the water is sumped out.

ANTIS' BIG BOX.

its Contents Expected to Show Whom New York Is For.

CHICAGO, June 20. - Two stout porters carried a big box up to the Cleveland neadquarters in the Grand Pacific Saturiay morning and deposited their burien in a corner. It was closely guarded by E. Ellery Anderson, one of the leaders of the "Anti-Snappers." Mr. Anderson, who has the big list in charge, said: "That box contains protests against Hill and the snap convention, and there are 200,000 names signed to them. It is the biggest protest that has ever been presented to any representative body. The men whose names are on those rolls are solid citizens of New York. Their voices will be heard in the convention if possible and at least before the committee on credentials. We will show the convention that the greatest outrage ever perpetrated on American citizens was done at the February meeting of the Hill machinists. We know he is not the choice of the people of New York and that Grover Cleveland is."

Archbishop Ireland On Catholics in -The Labor Question Paris, June 20. - The Temps Saturday published an interview with Archbishop freland, of St. Paul, Minn., who has arrived here on his way to the United States after his successful mission to the vatican, in regard to the Stillwater-

Faribault education scheme. The archbishop spoke of the pope's recent encyclical enjoining Catholic oyalists in France to support the republican form of government. According to the Temps, Archbishop Ireland said: "The pope's decision that Catholics must adhere to the republic is irrevocable. The church in France must not remain attached to a corpse. It must accept the republic." In regard to labor disputes, the archbishop said he hoped that all differences between employers and their workmen would eventually be settled through the simple accord of individnals and the action of trade unions. If their efforts were futile, the state should intervene. American workmen, he continued, were thoughtful and reasonable. They only demanded what was possible to obtain, and did not seek to foment useless and ruinous strikes.

The archbishop remarked on the attempts made in France to found Catholic workingmen's societies. He dwelt on the fact that there was no religious distinction in any trade associations in the United States.

THE ULSTER PROTEST.

strong Comments By the British Press-Peace or War.

LONDON, June 20.-The Post says "The Ulster meeting is no mere repetition of the remonstrance of 1886. It represents a force called into existence by the apathy or indifference of the British electorate. Never has a more strenuous appeal been made to the highest principles of national life and British honor. Commenting on the Ulster convention, the News admits that t was a most successful spectacle and parade, and that the speakers were noderate.

The Standard says: "Ulster's voice vill ring through the kingdom and will conspicuously refute the sinister prophcies of the adversary. The only plea that touched the hearts of the electorate in favor of home rule was that it would bring peace. We know now that it will bring the sword." The Times says: "No political demonstration of our time has afforded any parallel to the Ulster convention. If we mistake not, it will reveal for the first Cleveland's vote at 578. This is a most time to many of our countrymen that there is an Ulster question as well as an Irish question, to ignore which would be an act of criminal folly. The delusion that the Ulster resistance is a mere Orange movement has been finally
